

Supplementary Figure 1. Sample illustration for center of pressure (COP) excursion. Movements of COP were illustrated on each case of control group (A) and acute ischemic stroke group (B). X and Y axes were normalized to width and length of the foot, respectively. Blue circles and shades indicate mean location and 2 standard deviation for medial-lateral movement of COP, respectively. Red and green diamond denote the transition time from single limb stance to double limb stance and that time from double limb stance to single limb stance.
